PROFILE

I build full-stack web apps that solve real problems, from an AI exam platform where every student gets a different test to a public-works map that checks contracts against satellite imagery. Winner of the RAITE 2026 Hackathon and 1st Runner-Up at EduTech Asia 2026 in Singapore. I work mainly with Next.js, TypeScript, PostgreSQL and the Gemini API, and I have also built a marketplace that routes festival waste to local artisans and a faculty evaluation system with encrypted anonymous feedback. BSIT student and President's Lister at the University of the Assumption.

PROJECTS & HACKATHONS

Proctor.AI, AI exam and anti-cheating platform
RAITE 2026 Hackathon Winner · Best Technical Implementation · Best UX · PSC XI Regional Top 20
- Gives each student a different but equivalent exam, generated by Gemini from class files
- Gemini Vision rates webcam clips of suspected cheating; exams lock on a second strike and post to Google Classroom

MapaTunAI, infrastructure transparency platform
Top 3, Can You HackIT: The IBPAP Challenge
- Checks DPWH projects against contractors, citizen reports and satellite history through a 26-endpoint API
- Gemini cross-checks records, satellite images and citizen reports to flag irregularities across 240,000+ contracts

HeriTech, circular marketplace for festival waste
1st Runner-Up, Planet Protectors Challenge, EduTech Asia 2026 (Singapore)
- Routes festival leftovers to artisans; each craft gets a QR-verifiable record in Google Wallet
- Classifies materials from a photo with Gemini, with an on-device fallback model; 61 unit tests

evalUAtion, UA faculty evaluation system
- University-wide portal with UA Google sign-in and role-based access for admins and faculty
- Encrypts anonymous responses (AES-256-GCM) and summarizes faculty feedback with Gemini

RAITE 2026 Registration Platform, team project
- Event registration for PSITE Region III with bulk CSV imports and 1.2 GB uploads

J1 Movies, movie and TV discovery site
- TMDB-powered search and filters; plays third-party embedded streams, so no video is stored

- Browser photo editor with AI background removal, smart cropping and palette extraction

Reel To You, movie-quote time capsule
- Pick a film and a line, add a dedication and a name; anyone can search a name to read what was left for it, with moderation built in
